THAW'S MOTHER TREATED GENTLY

Breaks Down When Testifying, But Bravely Struggles to Keep Up For Sake of Her Boy on Stand

THE TRIAL IS PROGRESSING

New York, March 7.—Postponement of the Thaw case until tomorrow was caused by the death of James Walsh husband of Justice Fitzgerald's wife's sister.

The Prisoner's Mother.

Another dramatic chapter was added to the history of the Thaw trial when the mother of the defendant took the stand. Mrs. Thaw's stay before the jury was brief. When Delmas had definitely limited her examination to the change she had noted in her son's condition following his return from Paris in 1903 after Evelyn Nesbit had told him of her life story, and when Jerome had with great consideration, conducted a short and ineffectual cross-examination, the mother love welled strong in Mrs. Thaw and she felt she had not done her all. She was loath to leave the witness chair.

"There is the question of heredity," she protested when both Delmas and Jerome told her she might step down. "I have asked you, madam, all that is considered necessary," said Thaw's attorney, with the utmost deference. Mrs. Thaw half rose, hesitated and was about to sit down again when Delmas offered her his hand to assist her from the stand.

Mother Nears Break Down.

Twice during her recital of the events which had caused her to fear that all was not right with her son, Mrs. Thaw broke down and was unable to proceed. Her face flushed and she made an effort to speak but the words would not come. After a few moments Justice Fitzgerald asked solicitously if she felt able to proceed and Mrs. Thaw, evidently much chagrined that her great grief had overcome her strong will of resistance, nodded in the affirmative.

She declined a glass of water, made an effort once more to proceed but failed. Fitzgerald then interposed a relief for which the elderly woman facing him must have been deeply grateful. He said as that many of the witness' remarks had been uttered in a very low voice it would be necessary to have the stenographer read all her testimony up to that time to the jury. When the reading was ended Mrs. Thaw had regained her composure and was able to proceed to the end of her narrative.

Thaw Was Deeply Depressed.

She said that when Harry came home in 1903 he seemed depressed and apparently had lost all interest in life. He passed sleepless nights, would often leave the table at meals and go into the parlor to play upon the piano, the music growing softer and softer until it finally died away. She told in a motherly way of her solicitude for the body.

As Mrs. Thaw bravely told of her son's statement to her, tears welled up in her eyes and for several moments she was unable to proceed with her story.

"He told me that a wicked man—probably the wickedest man in all New York—had ruined his life."

It was not until some time after he had offered this explanation of the change in him that she learned the story of the young woman who was to become her daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Thaw told of her son breaking down at church in Pittsburg and afterward explaining it was because of sorrow which prevented the young woman he loved being at his side.

Mrs. Thaw told of coming to New York to meet Evelyn Nesbit and of giving her consent to her son's marriage—the one condition being that the girl's past life in New York should be a closed book, never to be referred to in any way. Then came the story of the marriage in Pittsburg in April, 1905, the honeymoon trip and then a happy placid summer spent at the mother's country home in the mountains.

Thaw's Income Not Great.

That was all, Delmas ended her testimony abruptly. The district attorney was taken by surprise and began to cross-examine Mrs. Thaw in a very low voice. He asked the conditions surrounding the increase in her son's allowance, but Delmas objected. He asked what the son's income amounted to. Mrs. Thaw said it was moderate and nothing like the sum the newspapers have so often reported.

BODIES WASH ASHORE.

Naples, March 7.—Twenty bodies washed ashore at Castellammare. The bodies are believed to be those of passengers and crew of the British steamship, Kalada, which recently foundered. It is not known how many lives were lost, but additional bodies continue washing in almost hourly.

CRANE'S BOOM.

Boston, March 7.—Boom for United States Senator Crane as presidential candidate started some time ago in Washington, was given official endorsement last night at a dinner of western Massachusetts members of the legislature, when Crane was toasted as the next president of the United States. This was loudly cheered.

REWARD FOR BOY.

Kitts' Hammock, Del., March 7.—With a reward of $25,000 offered for the safe return and another of $1,000 for the dead body, hundreds of men today returned to search for little Horace Martin, whose strange disappearance generally aroused the entire neighborhood. There is not the slightest trace of the lad now.

BANK ROBBERS.

Masonville, Iowa, March 7.—Robbers dynamited the safe of the Farmers' bank this morning and secured several thousand dollars. Five hundred were dropped when the burglars crossed a wire fence. A posse is tracking the men in the light snow.

ARTIST SUICIDE.

Paris, March 7.—Standing before a mirror in the studio of the apartments today Mrs. Dole Latham, said to be the daughter of a Chicago magistrate, committed suicide by shooting. She had attracted considerable attention as an artist and entertained sumptuously. Financial difficulty is given as the cause.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

Fort Worth, March 7.—Extreme drought has caused numerous prairie fires in west Texas. Hundreds of acres of ranch land are burned over, causing a heavy loss.

GUARD EMPRESS.

London, March 7.—Every precaution known to the authorities of Scotland yard is being made to guard the dowager empress of Russia, who arrived today to visit her sister Queen Alexandra. Every known anarchist in England was placed under police surveillance. The empress will be guarded by special detectives during her visit.

TWO CENT FARE.

Springfield, Ill., March 7.—The house today unanimously passed the two cent passenger fare bill. It is practically certain both houses will agree on a two cent bill.

BOMB THROWN.

Warsaw, March 7.—A bomb was thrown today into the flat occupied by Prince Pergatynski, director of the government high school. The prince is uninjured.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

NEED FOUNTAINS ALONG STREETS

Daughters of American Revolution to Lay a Proposition Before Board of Aldermen at Meeting Tonight

TO INCREASE THE TAX LEVY

Daughters of the American Revolution probably will present before the board of aldermen tonight their proposition for the location of drinking fountains at prominent corners in the business section, and it is expected that the general council will take action to promote the idea, which is considered an excellent one.

The ordinance increasing the tax rate from $1.65, as fixed by the general council last year, to $1.85 will be introduced in the board tonight. It has passed the board of councilmen exactly as agreed upon at a finance committee conference. It is probable that the aldermen will hold two distinct sessions tonight for the purpose of passing the ordinance on two readings.

Roller skating, and possibly toy pistols, will be considered. Some ordinances relative to street improvements, may be introduced.

SCHMITZ'S STATEMENT.

Says Teddy's Eloquence Made Him Change Opinion.

San Francisco, March 7.—Mayor Schmitz arrived here this afternoon on his return from Washington. He said he would issue a statement on the whole Japanese situation within a few days.

Mr. Schmitz, in an interview at Los Angeles, en route, is quoted as saying:

"Although I went to Washington to confer with the president about admitting the Japanese into the public schools, I found my views were not altogether right, and when the matter was presented to me in a light that I had not before considered, could see that there was some reason for the attitude of the head of the nation took. I found that President Roosevelt was strongly in favor of admitting them, and of course he is in a position to know what is really best."

STEALING WHISKY AND SELLING IT

Systematic stealing of whisky from Dreyfuss, Well & Company has been traced down to employees of that firm who have absconded. The goods have been sold to local saloon keepers at less than manufacturer's cost. The method of operation was to wait until after the business had been closed for the day, and then to carry the goods away in carriages, unstamped in jugs and sell it to the saloon keepers who bought the goods. Keys to the whisky and to the rooms in which the goods were kept were stolen and the goods obtained. The speculations have been going on for several months. The thefts were admitted at the office of Dreyfuss, Well & Company. It is said that over 120 gallons were taken.

How They Do It in Mayfield.

Just as the town clock struck 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon Rev. Nunnally spoke the words in the store of Draffen, Dick & Co. that united in marriage George Thompson and Miss Cora Kirby, of Dublin. The groom, after the ceremony, presented the minister with a silver dollar and the couple left the store and went their way happy.—Mayfield Messenger.

Holdup Man Is Careless.

Goshen, Ind., March 7.—Last night a holdup man, with a gun, compelled Bandmaster Roscoe to open the Cafe Rogers. He grabbed $15 overlooking $700 and escaped.

ACQUITTED FOR KILLING BYWATER

Culpeper, Va., March 7.—The case of Strothers brothers for the murder of William F. Bywaters, who was shot immediately after he married their sister, whom he wronged, went to the jury this morning. The jury, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of not guilty.

DARING HOLDUP.

Moscow, March 7.—A daring holdup occurred at the university today. While officials were being paid off seven armed men, supposed to be terrorists, entered and threatening all present with revolvers, demanded the money. The intruders fired in the air, secured $20,000, decamped, killing a sergeant of police whom they encountered at the door as he was about to enter the building.

FORMER MAYOR LANG IS BUSY AT THE CITY HALL

Some figures on the Democratic city administration, or some former one, may be introduced in the bitter fight being waged before the Democratic primary. Former Mayor James Lang has been engaged in a careful inspection of the books in the auditor's and treasurer's office, and although he is maintaining strict secrecy about it the rumor is out that he intends to spring something in the Reed camp.

GRAIN MARKET.

Cincinnati, March 7.—Wheat, 79 1-2; corn, 50; oats, 46 1-2.

Car Leaves Track.

Union depot car No. 51 jumped the track yesterday afternoon on Caldwell street just as it was crossing the last rail on the way to union station. The car is one of the smaller type. It rolled across the street and by vigorous efforts by Motorman West it was brought to a standstill several feet from the edge of the fill.

PATROLMAN CLARK FINDS FUGITIVE

By clever work this morning, Patrolman J. W. Clark found a negro for whom Tennessee officers have been searching for some time. His name is John Pitts, and he is wanted at Newbern, Tenn., for stabbing a man, Marshal King, and Deputy Sheriff Pitt of Newbern, came here today, and after several hours' work, Patrolman Clark found their man at the Illinois Central hospital, where he was recovering from a pistol wound inflicted by another Illinois Central brakeman at Cecilia. Pitts on coming here had gone to work on the Illinois Central and got into a difficulty, during which he was shot, February 25. He will be taken back to Newbern this afternoon.

GAVE HER MILLION TO ART.

Woman Decides to Will Entire Estate for Gallery.

Manchester, N. H., March 7.—Mrs. Hannah A. Currier is to give her entire fortune of $1,000,000 for the establishment of an art gallery in this city at her death. The estate will be left to trustees named in a list which she already has prepared. Mrs. Currier is nearly 80 years old.

Sulphur Yellow Reigning Color.

London, March 7.—According to the Drapers' Record sulphur yellow, which already has a vogue in Paris, will be the popular shade this year, both for women's frocks and household decorations.

STANDARD OIL MEN MUST STAND TRIAL

St. Louis, March 7.—The Standard Oil company and John D. Rockefeller must stand trial in St. Louis, by a decision rendered this morning by the four United States judges, sitting in the case, it was held that the defendants in the government suit against the Standard can be brought to St. Louis for trial, no matter in what part of the country they may have legal residence. There are seventy defendants in all comprising all the prominent men connected with the monopoly.

WEATHER—Probably rain tonight with colder in the extreme western portion, Friday fair and colder. Rainfall .17 inch.

Movement Looking to Removal of Schools From Politics Culminates in Organization of League By The Serious Minded People of Paducah, Who Tire of Party and Factional Bickering

APPROACH BOTH PARTIES

Have Confidence of Business and Professional Men, Who Will Continue Fight for the Betterment of Paducah City Schools

ALL ARE INVITED TO JOIN

Culminating a feeling that quietly has been taking form for the last several months, a meeting of citizens interested in a non-partisan school system will be held in the Eagles' hall, Sixth street and Broadway tonight at 7:30 o'clock. In this meeting, composed indiscriminately of citizens of all political faiths, an organization will be effected to work for a non-partisan school board. The object of the Non-Partisan School league will be to lift the public school system out of the realm of party conflicts, and place it on a plane, where only a love for the best interests of the schools would be the motive for getting on the board, and where the political parties will not consider it as a public plum to be struggled for every year.

It is understood that the organization will endeavor to get a fusion ticket. Both the Republican and Democratic city executive committees will be appealed to to sever the schools from the other elective offices, and to allow the same ticket for school trustees to go under each emblem. The new organization will make out a non-partisan ticket, which it will submit to both committees, so that men elected on that ticket may be elected with the understanding that no questions arising in the board will be settled from the viewpoint of any party.

At the meeting tonight, a declaration of principles will be made and the membership will not be limited in any way. Any citizen who would like to see the school system placed entirely out of politics has the qualification for membership. Later it is expected to appeal to the legislature to have the charter repealed in those sections which call for an election every year, and to have the term for four years with elections every two years.

Many business, professional and working men have expressed approval of a Non-Partisan School league and if the organization is effected, it is probable that it will be incorporated. The citizens behind the movement will not be discouraged, if nothing definite is accomplished in the fall campaign, but will continue to work for a non-partisan school system. Republicans and Democrats alike have signified their intention of attending the meeting tonight.

CORTLEYOU EATS WITH CLERKS

New Treasury Chief Astonishes Subordinates by Frugal Meal.

Washington, March 7.—Secretary Cortleyou, new head of the treasury department, astonished the hundreds of clerks who take their midday lunch at a restaurant across the street from the treasury building by appearing among them today. He ate a sandwich and a piece of pie and drank a mug of milk. Many of the $1,000 clerks partook of a more sumptuous repast. Mr. Cortleyou was accustomed to lunch at this stand when he was private secretary to the president.

SUCCESS

PROMISED JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS IN HIS FIGHT.

Mississippi's Famous Statesman Enters On Fight For Money's Toga.

Washington, March 7.—Representative John Sharp Williams, the Democratic leader in the house, has left for his home in Mississippi to begin at once an active campaign for the Mississippi senatorship against his opponent, Gov. Vardaman. On next Friday he will formally open his campaign at Amory, Miss., and from that time on will be actively engaged upon the stump. He will deliver speeches all over the state and little doubt is expressed that he will have a pronounced majority when the votes are counted in August. The efforts of Gov. Vardaman and his supporters to discredit the house leadership of Mr. Williams through the candidacy of Representative DeArmond, of Missouri, has ended in a flat failure.

Mr. Williams has already received written pledges from a majority of the Democrats comprising the membership of the Sixtieth congress, and by the time the new congress meets it is expected that all opposition to him will cease. His leadership has proved eminently satisfactory and it is only through the Hearst coterie that opposition has been manifested against him.

World's Costliest Dress.

It may seem a trifle incongruous that in a land where the masses are at the starvation point all the time, and often on the fatal side of that point, the wearers of the richest raiment should be found, but such seems to be the case.

One of the princesses of the Burmese court, a young woman not yet 20, is said to be the possessor of the costliest dress in the world. It is a court costume and worn only on rare occasions. It is studded with jewels reputed to be worth in the aggregate not less than $1,400,000.—Kansas City Journal.

THEATRICAL NOTES

"The Gingerbread Man."

The Cairo Bulletin says: "The golden days when the jingly, nursery rhymes were true, made all who heard 'The Gingerbread Man' at the opera house last night renew their childhood incidentally adding a few touches of up-to-dateness.

"It is a charming little play, entirely innocent of complications and as to music, decidedly delightful. There are one or two exceedingly good voices, Homer Lind, who plays the part of Fudge, and Mae Phelps, who was a fascinating little Jack Horner, being the great attractions of the play from a musical standpoint. Miss Phelps is a clever actress and her beautiful voice, rich, full and vibrant, was heard with rare enjoyment. Miss Phelps was the prima donna with the 'Prince of Pilsen' when that play was given its first run in New York. Her work is always artistic and conscientious.

"The comedians and the chorus were exceptionally good and the company in the aggregate is a strong one. A clever feature in the way of girl in the moon the light effects of which, by the way, were the most natural and beautiful ever given on this stage was much admired and a horribly realistic dragon who breathed fire caused a real shudder every time he made his writhing entrance.

"Clifford Saum, a former member of the Cairo baseball team of the Kitty league, appeared in the chorus. "The Gingerbread Man" ranks as one of the best of the many musical comedies seen here and the large audience was hearty in expressing its appreciation.

"The Gingerbread Man" will be given at The Kentucky tonight.

Gertrude Ewing Company.

The Gertrude Ewing company presented the "Mansion of Aching Hearts" at The Kentucky to a large and appreciative audience who evidenced by their liberal applause and laughter, their thorough appreciation of the play and players. The piece was well interpreted and adequately staged and showed the company to good advantage. Miss Ewing was good as usual as Emily Field and added new friends to those she has already gained. Mr. Dean played a part altogether different from the others in which he has been seen, that of a minister, The Rev. Owen Churchill, and it must be said that from an artistic standpoint it was by far the best thing Paducahans have had the pleasure of seeing him do. Those desiring of special mention are J. G. Stutzman as Lewis Holcomb, and William N. Smith as Silas Fields. Mr. Charles Colville as Michael Kerrigan was funny as usual. The balance of the company acquitted themselves creditably. The specialties were all good as usual. The company goes to Mayfield tonight and returns Friday for the balance of the week, presenting "The Smart Set" Friday.

Illinois' Claims Against the I. C.

Springfield, Ill., March 7.—In anticipation of disturbances when bills appropriating $150,000 for the Illinois Central suit and the continuance of the investigation are called upon second reading Gov. Deneen today gave out a detailed report of the findings of accountants who have been conducting an inquiry into the railroad company's books. Details thus given are not numerous, but they indicate how the total claim of $5,315,000 is made up, fourteen different items of loss to the state being shown. Of these the chief loss appears to be sustained in investments the Illinois Central has made, on which, it is charged, it does not pay compensation, the amount being stated as $2,000,000. A statement showing the amounts due the state has been issued. It gives fourteen different items, as follows:

Cairo bridge earnings...	$ 400,000
Freight diverted by Foreston	200,000
Mobile and Ohio trackage at Cairo	10,000
Advertising mileage books Mobile and Ohio bridge tolls at Cairo	30,000
C. M. and N.R.R. terminals at Chicago	140,000
Income from sundry investments	2,000,000
Rental of property, Michigan avenue, Chicago ..	5,000
Coal hauled for subsidiary companies	150,000
Earnings from car mileage Earnings from elevator rentals at Chicago	50,000
Earnings from elevator rentals at Cairo	75,000
Rebates and drawbacks erroneously charged against earnings	325,000
Errors in divisions of gross freight earnings ..	1,500,000
Total	$5,315,000

Not in many months was the river known to be as busy as it was yesterday afternoon as far as local shipments are concerned. Until 11 o'clock last night wagons were pouring onto the wharves in a continuous stream and the congestion at times required a full exercise of the ability to direct to keep things moving at the proper rate. The spring wholesale business is in full blast and the southward bound packets are carrying away as much freight from Paducah as they bring in. The river rose only .4 in the last 24 hours, bringing the stage up to 31.8. March 7 last year the stage was 23.3.

The Russell Lord lost three barges of ties in the Mississippi river yesterday by striking a reef. The Russell Lord is in the Reelfoot lake section of the Mississippi river. As yet the cause of the accident is not known, but as the barges were heavily loaded the loss may be great. Most of the ties probably will be saved.

Preferring liberty at any cost, a cow jumped off the end of the wharves yesterday afternoon into the river while a number were being loaded on the City of Memphis. A skiff was procured and some rowdies rowed out to the cow, tied a rope to her horns and towed her into the shore. The cow couldn't kick or hold back and they had no trouble bringing her in.

While the Memphis arrived late on this trip from the Tennessee river, the principal reason for getting away 12 hours late was the big trip taken on here for southern points. The Memphis did not get away until 6 o'clock this morning for the Tennessee river. Captain Hunter says the Dunbar probably will be ready to leave tomorrow for Nashville after several weeks spent here for repairs to the boilers.

The Harvester is having a much more protracted stay here than was anticipated. The tow of 38 barges is still tied up at Turner's landing. The Harvester will get away by Sunday.

The ever alert coal companies have timed the crest of the present rise and several big tows are headed this way from Pittsburg. One of two big tows of empties is coming up from New Orleans.

Looking like a perfectly new boat,

Still Probing Road's Earnings.

Further, the statement says: "The passenger department still is under investigation, as are other matters, such as express earnings.

"If the theory of the attorney general as set forth in the bill filed by him in the supreme court is sustained by that court, it would of necessity, involve a restatement of all of the gross receipts, income, and proceeds of the charter lines during the period to be covered by the investigation. "To reapportion the gross income of the charter lines it will be necessary to take each individual shipment of freight, whether large or small, that was carried in part over the charter lines and reapportion the earnings in accordance with such rules as may be determined upon by the supreme court.

"Up to the present time $31,352.83 has been expended in the investigation, every cent of which has been paid to accountants.

Further, with regard to the great amount of work necessary to be done the statement says:

"When it is considered that the earnings of the Illinois Central railroad, from which the charter lines' proportion is to be separated, aggregate upwards of $50,000,000 a year, some conception can be formed of the great amount of detailed work necessary for expert accountants to perform in arriving at the correct amounts due the state under its contract with the Illinois Central railroad company. Literally tons and tons of papers have been handled by the state's accountants in arriving at a basis for new percentages, and the compilation of these percentages has involved over 40,000 distinct calculations by them."

Things do not prove themselves sacred by segregating themselves from secular concerns.

The Grey Eagle got away for St. Louis last night at 11 o'clock. Every time winter is spent here by the Leybe fleet they go back to St. Louis in the finest trim.

The City of Salt Lake will arrive late this afternoon or tonight from the Tennessee river bound for St. Louis.

The Buttorff arrived this morning from Clarksville and found a big trip for Nashville, leaving at noon for that point.

The Georgia Lee will arrive Friday afternoon from Memphis on the up trip to Cincinnati.

The John S. Summers, a Cairo towboat, will arrive tomorrow from that port with two barges of iron for Nashville. Capt. Bill Shaw will be at the wheel.

Not until this morning did the Mary Michael get away for the Mississippi river after logs.

The Kentucky will arrive tonight or in the morning from the Tennessee river.

The Joe Fowler brought in a good trip from Evansville today and carried away another good trip for up-river points.

Eight o'clock this morning on the dot found the Dick Fowler headed for Cairo and barring unusual business, the same hour tonight will find the Dick Fowler at the wharf again.

Pilots' Society Reorganized.

A St. Louis dispatch says: "The vote on the proposed dissolution of the Pilots' Society and the dropping of one of its constituent organizations was counted yesterday at the rooms in the Panama building, with the result that the Mississippi and Ohio River Pilots' Society will be maintained and Harbor No. 38, of Mastes, Mates and Pilots will be dropped. The vote was 30 to 9. P. S. Brown, secretary, will notify the grand harbor at Washington. The association retained is the original society, of which the pilots are members. They later became affiliated with the harbor, but it was found burdensome to maintain both organizations, and the question of withdrawing from one or the other was put to a vote.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio from Evansville to Cairo will continue rising slowly during the next 24 to 36 hours.

The Tennessee from Florence to below Johnsonville, will fall during the next 24 to 36 hours.

The Mississippi, from below St. Louis to above Cairo, will continue to fall slowly during the next 24 to 36 hours.

The Wabash, at Mt. Carmel, no material change during the next 24 hours.

"No, George, I cannot marry you." "Then I start for Siberia tomorrow." "Always thoughtful! I haven't any postcards at all from Siberia."

A Missouri graduate in law, says a politician of that state, wrote to a prominent lawyer in Arkansas to inquire what chance there was in that section for such a one as he described himself to be. He said: "I am a Republican in politics, and an honest young lawyer."

The reply that came seemed to be encouraging in its interest: "If you are a Republican, the game laws here will protect you, and if you are an honest lawyer, you will have no competition."—Harper's Weekly.

Strange Minnesota Lakes.

"There are three remarkable chains of lakes in Northern Minnesota, among the headwaters of the Mississippi," said D. B. Stark of St. Paul. "These are known respectively as the Man Trap, Crow's King and Fish Hook chains, and there are about forty lakes in the three chains. In some places they come so close together that lakes of all three chains will be within half a mile of each other, but there is the widest possible difference in them. "The Man Trap chain is almost fifty feet higher than either of the two other chains, and the eleven lakes which comprise it have no inlet or outlet to any other waters. Still the lake is teeming with muskallonge and there are no other varieties of fish in any of the lakes. The waters are clear and cold at all seasons, and the fish are unusually game.

"The other two chains team with game fish, but in no instance has a muskallonge ever been caught in either. Pickerel are so plentiful that they drive the bass away from all bait and it is almost impossible to catch bass, although there are some fine ones in both chains. There has never been a satisfactory explanation of the presence of muskallonge only in one chain, and every other game fish common to the region in other lakes without the muskies."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Thought It Was a Mule.

Lloyd Griscom, the new ambassador to Italy, tells of a baseball game he saw in Brazil. An Englishman was catcher for his nine and did fairly well until a new pitcher was put in. The twirler sent in a hot one. The Englishman failed to hold the ball, which hit him on the nose and knocked him senseless. When he recovered he asked feebly: "What was it?" The umpire answered: "It was a foul." "O fowl!" groaned the poor catcher, mistaking the word. "I thought it was a mule."

Thompkins struts around awfully lately. "Great Scott, why shouldn't he? He owns a hennery and doesn't have to buy eggs."

Tears of Widows Cleanse Money Though It Be Ever So Tainted

New York, March 7.—General William Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, arrived here today on the liner Minneapolis. He was met at the pier by a delegation from the organization and driven directly to the headquarters in Fourteenth street.

There has been some mystery about the mission of General Booth to America on his way to Japan, but the mystery was explained when he announced that he was anxious to see Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller. He will not have his wish in the latter case, for the reason that Mr. Rockefeller has left his Lakewood home for Augusta, Ga., on account of the illness of his daughter, Mrs. McCormick.

"My mission in New York is to raise from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000," said General Booth. "I am seeking to get this large fund for the purpose of establishing what will in the end be called 'The University of Humanity.' I would take tainted money, as you call it from John D. Rockefeller or anybody else."

To Save Men From Crime.

This proposed humanitarian institution is to have headquarters here and in London. It will be for the permanent uplifting of humanity. Its mission will be the saving of men everywhere from vice, crime and all the other evils attendant upon poverty.

"I would like to see Mr. Carnegie," said the general. "I think his philanthropy, generous as it is, is not all ways aimed quite in the right direction."

"Would you accept money from Mr. Rockefeller?" General Booth was asked, "or do you look upon his money as tainted?"

"Why, of course I would take it if it came my way," he replied. "It will be just as good as anybody else's money so far as I can see. Some years ago I met the Marquis of Queensberry, who made the prize ring rules, and he gave me $500. Then we had prayer together. He had just lost his wife, as I had mine, and we had a common bond of sympathy. Some people saw this and came to me and said: 'Are you going to take that dirty money of that Marquis of Queensberry?' 'Certainly I am,' I said, and they denounced me right away."

To Cleanse It With Tears.

"I would take anything and I would wash it in the tears of the widows and orphans. I would lay it on the altar of benevolent effort for the good of the cause."

"I never have seen Mr. Carnegie. I never have approached him in any way. I should have thought that the work of the Salvation Army would have commended itself to Mr. Carnegie. But Mr. Carnegie says: 'I cannot spend my money on people who are down. I will help those who want to get up.'"

"I hold that the time to help a man is when he is going down. You would be surprised at the beautiful people who are down."

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Name May Be Learned Soon.

Mayfield, Ky., March 7.—It is now believed that the identity of the man who was burned in the Parker boarding house, may be learned in the next few days.

Relatives and other parties will be here in the next three days with the hope of learning if the dead man is one of their missing relatives. The investigation has been going on for several days and all information so far obtained points almost conclusively to the person whom it is thought was missing. It is said the man came from Paducah on the Sunday afternoon previous to the fire and has never been seen or heard from since. Chief McNutt says he will have something to give out in the next few days that will probably clear up the mystery regarding the name of the man anyway.

Claims to Be Christ.

Glasgow, Ky., March 7.—A man, some 30 years of age, who says he is the Christ, and that he hails from New York city, was arrested at Glasgow Junction yesterday and brought to this place for trial. He says his name is Lavern Emery Lounsberry, and that he is on his way to New Mexico. Shortly after alighting from the train he went to the home of Mrs. Joe Wilson. Mrs. Wilson saw the strange man approaching, and when he came to the door he began to blow a trumpet, which could be heard quite a distance. This frightened Mrs. Wilson, and she went to the telephone and called for the marshal. When arrested he was armed with a rifle, a revolver, butcher knife and a sword and carried in his hand a long rod and a trumpet. He was brought to this place and tried on a lunacy writ and pleaded his own case. He said he was a graduate of Harvard college, that he was the Christ, also that he was en route to New Mexico with a message for those people.

SPENT $30,000 OVER $5.00.

After having been dragged through the courts for sixty years, the lawsuits of Andrew Camp against William Zimmmerman was finally decided in court here today. The litigants were leading farmers in the upper end of Lehigh county and the dispute was over a strip of land worth about $5. It is 1,800 feet long and in width from 4 to 23 feet.

The suit was over the ownership of the land and the litigation began when Zimmermann cut down a chestnut tree on the property. The men and their families although neighbors have not spoken to each other for over half a century. The case has been in the supreme court at least three times, had no less than $30,000 has been spent in lawyer's fees and other costs in the litigation.

Since the last suit was brought Zimmermann has died, as also have his lawyer John Rupp and the principal witness, Peter Kunkle. The widow fought the case to a finish but today she lost, the jury deciding that the property belongs to Camp. When the suits involving the question of damages were tried the verdict never exceeded $6.—N. Y. World.

FIFTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

Some of the Important Bills It Enacted.

Washington, March 7.—Important acts passed by the Fifty-Ninth congress:

The railway rate law.

Lock canal at Panama; supplies to be domestic.

Oklahoma (including Indian Territory) admitted to the union.

Pure food law.

Meat inspection.

Alcohol, for use in arts, freed of tax.

Consular service reorganized on merit basis.

Quarantine against yellow fever nationalized.

National bank liabilities limited to 30 per cent. of capital.

Alaska; Delegate allowed; aliens prohibited fishing.

Taxation of pure domestic sweet wines reduced.

Affairs of the five civilized Indian tribes finally settled.

Nagara Falls and historic antiquities preserved.

Graves of Confederate soldiers marked.

Santo Domingo, Morocco, Mexican boundary and American pecuniary claims arbitration treaties approved.

Immigration law revised.

Expatriation law, defining citizenship and status of Americans married to foreigners.

General service pension law, embracing all soldiers 62 years of age.

National banks and corporations prohibited from contributing to political campaign funds.

Salary increases: Fifty per cent. to vice president, speaker, congressmen and cabinet members; all salaries of ministers abroad formerly $7,500 raised to $10,000; postal clerks and carriers increased.

Railway employees' working hours limited.

Army: Artillery reorganized and enlarged; field batteries combined in six regiments, and coast batteries constituted a corps; nearly $100,000,000 appropriated for waterways improvement.

Navy: Two 20,000 ton battleships, two destroyers, $3,000,000 for submarines.

Bills introduced: House, 25,910; senate, 8,655.

Senator Bailey.

Said Senator Bailey in his recent remarkable outburst before the Texas legislature:

"I have letters from other states saying that if Texas was tired of me I could come among them and they would send me to the senate."

It is too bad that Mr. Bailey did not name these states. Probably he left them nameless so as not to offend the susceptibilities of Democratic colleagues in the senate now holding on ad interim. Texas ought to feel the implied rebuke and strain herself to do proper honor to a statesman so widely honored in sister commonwealths.—New York Tribune.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Capt. John Smith.

Capt. John Smith of Willoughby, in Lincolnshire, was the man to whom the success of the English permanent settlement in North America was directly due. Though only 26 when the expedition sailed with him on board, he had already enjoyed such a succession of thrilling experiences as was the lot of few men even in the adventurous age of Elizabeth. At the age of 16 he had entered on a military career in France and the low countries. In 1600 he sought service against the Turks who were then at the height of their power, and had only lately ceased to threaten Vienna itself. On the way to the East he was thrown overboard as a Huguenot, and was rescued by a pirate, from whom his inexhaustible resourcefulness enabled him to escape after a time. He then entered the Austrian service and soon signalized himself by a series of brilliant exploits. One of these—the defeat of three Turkish champions in single fight—earned him his well-known coat-of-arms, "three Turks' heads in a shield" from Sigismund Bathori Prince of Transylvania. Later he was taken prisoner by the Turks, who owned his escape to the interest with which he inspired a Turkish lady. "Whatever might happen," as Gardiner says, "he was always able to turn it to account. In the worst dangers he knew what was the right thing to be done."—London Outlook.

RULES OF EVIDENCE.

Ever, when we speak of wisdom,
our thoughts turn to the picture of the learned judge in a tribunal of justice. When we speak of the perfection of reasoning, we have consideration of those rules of procedure that govern the practice of the court, and particularly those which have to do with the submission of evidence,
going to the credibility of witnesses,
the competency of testimony, its relevancy and weight. But sometimes the logical mind of the lay member of society receives a shock that brings justice into ridicule and the courts
into contempt. Yesterday morning in the police court two policemen
with satisfied countenances stood aside while a saloon keeper, whom they had arrested on the charge of violating the Sunday closing law, and four witnesses, whom they had caught
standing at the bar drinking, proceeded to explain the compromising situation in which they were found. The policemen, mind you, did not see any money in sight, but the men each
had a bottle of beer, and the bartender was busying himself behind the bar, while they drank. The four men and the bartender testified that the bartender had declined to either give the men a drink or sell it to them. But he went out and they each seized a bottle from a cooler
from which they saw the bartender
extract one for his own use, and began drinking. The bartender then returned and stood behind the bar
while they drank the stolen liquor.

Under the circumstances Judge
Cross said there was no evidence that the saloon keeper was violating the Sunday closing law.

We had supposed that circumstantial evidence is considered by a court,
and that a court has the right of any reasonable man to draw the usual and natural conclusions from the circumstances. Also we supposed that when a man testifies, stating alleged facts
in his own interest, which are contrary to the most plausible deduction
from the circumstances surrounding the matter under investigation, the court has some right to draw obvious conclusions from that. But not so with the rules of evidence in the police court. It seems that circumstantial evidence is of so little weight
that all required to overthrow it is an explanation that explains nothing.

The Deadly Parallel.

Reversal of form sometimes upsets a newspaper and a newspaper man, just as it does any other thing or being worked to the limit of endurance. Reversal of policy even sometimes is necessary, though seldom, and a way to be deplored. But reversal of facts never occurs, and when a newspaper makes contradictory statements, which Register nothing but the whims of an individual, only drawing the "deadly parallel" will survive to do justice to the case.

All this introduction is "concerning of and pertaining to" the declaration of a member of the school board, who was also a member of the board when Superintendent Lieb was elected the night of March 6, 1906, that the secretary, or the president or Superintendent Lieb, or somebody must have tampered with the contract, making it read for twelve months, beginning September 1, instead of August 1, as he and the other members of the board believed. He insisted that the error was made when the contract was signed after the night on which the board elected Superintendent Lieb.

The same member vows he will make Superintendent Lieb withdraw August 1 and that he will install Superintendent Lieb's successor on the same day. Unfortunately for the plans of this trustee, who confessedly did not know for ten months after the contract was entered into what its terms were, there are newspaper files to contradict every word he has uttered on the subject.

Every newspaper in Paducah on March 7, 1906, the day after the board elected Superintendent Lieb, and before the contract was signed, published the fact that his term was for one year, beginning September
1. The trustee, either was as careless in his reading as he has been about his duties as trustee, or else he did not think it worth the trouble at the time to deny the allegations of the newspapers that he had voted with the other trustees to elect Superintendent Lieb for one year, beginning September 1.

Now for the deadly parallel. We have heard a great deal from a certain sheet concerning the deplorable condition into which Superintendent Lieb has plunged the Paducah schools. Now, let us publish side by side accounts written by the same reporter, in his own individual style, of the two meetings—one, on March 6, 1906, when Superintendent Lieb was elected, and the other on March 5, 1907, when his successor was elected:

March 7, 1906.

Last evening at the meeting of the board of education in the Washington building on West Broadway, Superintendent C. M. Lieb, of the city schools, was re-elected to his position by a unanimous vote, he having no opposition.

NON-PARTISAN SCHOOL LEAGUE.

That politics should not be injected into the government of the schools, everybody agrees. But politics is not always a struggle between Democrats and Republicans. Sometimes it is a factional matter in the camp of one party, sometimes it is a factional scramble for the plums, between coteries, made up of heterogeneous alliances of politicians of opposite faiths. In whatever guise it presents itself, politics is ruinous to public school systems. Paducah is as unfortunate in this regard as any city one can think of. Members of the present board, only one of whom receives a salary, went out after votes, worked and spent their time, to be elected, with no other platform, than that they would see that Paducahans got the places in the schools, which they openly treat as they would would any other political job. The point of view of the trustees is wrong.
It is not for the purpose of securing jobs for their friends, that they are elected, but to look after the schools, their interests solely for which the people of this city pay taxes. It is not the interests of applicants for positions in the schools they are expected to look after, but the interests of the children of this city. Fathers and mothers should consider this attitude, and insist on getting men in the board who pledge themselves to consider the children first, last and all the time. That is the meaning of the non-partisan movement.

Of course, it may be terribly wicked for the boys and girls to skate
on the sidewalks; but they do indefinitely less harm with their roller skates than they do with toy cartridge pistols. Five deaths is the toll we paid for the privilege of allowing the sale of the pistols in Paducah during the holidays. If the dealers in roller skates would form a lobby as strong as the toy pistol lobby, they might frighten the general council in-
to smothering the ordinance in the committee.

Elliot county is ideal ground for the trial of famous criminal cases.
It has neither telegraph lines nor railroads.

LONDON WAKES UP.

Municipal ownership, that organized humbug so alluring to ill-balanced minds, propagated by charlatans, and thriving on the deception of voters, was repudiated by the people of London in the election held on Saturday. The new London county council will contain a majority of members opposed to further ventures in Socialism—for the policy pursued by the present council which its members intended indefinitely to extend is Socialism, and nothing else. In the stirring campaign made against the eyes of the voters were opened to the delusions of municipal ownership, they were brought to a realizing sense of its extravagant cost and inefficiency, and they decided to call a halt.

The English people, like the American people, have been a little slow in detecting the swindle. The agitators have fooled them there as here with incomplete and lying statistics of "profit" and the beautiful working of the Glasgow system has been exploited for a great deal more than its "worth." The development of public service industries has been checked and deadened, not helped, by the policy of municipal ownership, and as Mr. John S. Hodgson pointed out in a letter contributed to our columns yesterday, false systems of accounting have deceived the people of cities who have been persuaded to engage in municipal trading. It is idle to talk of "profits" when debts incurred for gas works show a continual increase, when municipal tramways are wearing out a third set of rails with the bonds issued to pay for the first set still unredeemed, and when the so-called operating surplus turned into the city treasury is far below the per capita average paid in the form of franchise and other taxes
by private corporations doing similar service.

A multitude of municipal ownership experiments have come to grief within the last two or three years. A good many cities are exceedingly anxious to sell plants that are running them all the time deeper in debt, but find no eager buyers. In the whole field of theory and practice Socialism is undergoing destructive exposures. Teachers of Socialism and writers of Socialist books insist converts are all the time being made by thousands and that the cause is making great headway. That may be true, but the doctrines that are making headway are not those having to do with municipal ownership, or with any other reasonable or half-reasonable policy. The Socialistic preaching which wins converts now is the perfectly frank advocacy of redistribution—of taking away violently or otherwise the possessions of those who have got on in the world to bestow them upon the less capable and industrious. Give everybody everything is now the vital doctrine of Socialism.—New York Times.

IN THE COURTS

Circuit Court.

Ide Lewis sues through her attorney, Hal Corbett, for absolute divorce
from her husband, Walter Lewis, and asks for the custody of their daughter. She alleges abandonment. They were married in 1899 and separated
in 1905.

Police Court.

Exactly one minute was required
to open, clear and close the police court docket this morning. Roy Dill was presented for trespassing into the girls' side of the playground of the McKinley building. The first question ascertained his age as being 15 years, and Judge Cross transferred the case to the juvenile court. Judge Lightfoot will hear the case Saturday morning.

In Bankruptcy.

Final distribution to creditors of the bankrupt estate of Dryfuss &
Bro. was made yesterday by Arthur
Martin, trustee. The dividend aggregated $300.

Big Damage Suit.

McArthur Bros., contractors, of Chicago, have brought suit for $187,
205 against the Illinois Central railroad for damages and alleged deferred payments for work done. The McArthur Bros. secured the contract
for building the Illinois Central from Paducah to East Cairo for $516,462,
and claim they were prevented from finishing the work until ten months
after the date stipulated in the contract, because the railroad had failed to secure the right of way. At the conclusion of the contract the railroad, it is alleged, paid the firm $478,157. A bonus of $7,326 was offered if the firm would finish the work to Barlow City by a certain time, and a bonus of $6,780 if the contractors should finish the road
from there to Cairo in a given time.
The contractors claim they were prevented from earning these bonuses by the company. They also include in their bill money alleged to have been paid out to secure a right of way,
damages and the expense of maintaining their camps and equipment,
while waiting for the railroad to secure the right of way.

Wish Administratrix Removed.

Following her dismissal against the protest of her lawyers of the $25,000
damage suit instituted by her against the Illinois Central railroad for the death of her husband, James Scott, Taylor & Lucas, her attorneys, have appealed to the county court to remove Mrs. Anna B. Scott as administratrix of the estate of James Scott on the alleged ground that she is not serving to the best interest of the estate. James Scott was a switchman
and fell from a moving car.

The suit filed by Hendrick, Miller

Chicago.

McArthur Bros. figured prominently in the Panama canal bids.

HARD TIMES COMING.

E. H. Harriman Warrs People Against Excesses.

Washington, March 7.—E. H.
Harriman, the railroad magnate, who has been in Washington since last Friday, said:

"I think the currency and tariff questions should be settled in a more definite way before congress
and the present administration devote so much precious time to regulating the railroads. The interests of the country demand that there should be some modification of the tariff,
but since we have no McKinley, or Dingley, I fear that the prospects for such legislation is not very encouraging. The United States will not always enjoy the prosperity that has prevailed during the last decade.
Hard times will certainly come again
unless congress and the people generally change their tactics toward the railroads and corporate interests."

WOMAN BARES GRAFT;
DETECTIVE IS OUSTED.

St. Louis, March 7.—Detective
Thomas Mahon, one of the seven city
detectives suspended on graft charges
was found guilty by the police board
this afternoon of accepting a present
from Gussie Glover, a woman with a police record, and was dismissed from the force.

The star witness at today's session
was May Harrington, once a notorious shoplifter and thief, who had been driven out of the city by the police, and in revenge exposed the methods of the police department during the recent exposition, declaring that she often paid for protection.
besides asserting that she had paid for protection, she said she had pursued her "calling" under instructions from Lee Killian, now dead, and "George" Williams, his slayer, both of whom were on the city detective force.

Cumberland Church.

The Rev. J. T. Barbee, of Owensboro, will finish his work here in behalf of the Cumberland Presbyterian church this evening at the First Christian church. Great interest has been manifested in the church since Mr.
Barbee's arrival in the city and as this will close his work here for the present, all the members are urged to be present at 7:30 o'clock.

'What Osteopathy Will Do.

There are but few people who have not heard of Osteopathy, also of some of its achievements. But there are far too many who have accredited it with being good for only those conditions from which they have been cured, or which have come under their observation. Not infrequently there is mutual surprise when one
who was cured of rheumatism meets
another who has been cured of asthma or constipation. This is a homely,
but very true illustration.

Personally, I have cured chronic
cases of constipation, rheumatism,
asthma, nervousness, neuralgia and
headaches for people whom you know well, and the value of the Osteopathic treatment is but coming generally known in Paducah, as it should be.

I should like to talk with you at any time about your particular case,
and know I can cite you to some of your friends who will attest to what the treatment has done for them in similar diseases. Come to my office, 516 Broadway, or phone 1407 any time from 9 to 12 or 2 to 5 p. m.

CHEAP
LOW PRICED
SMALL HOMES

Near city, fertile, high, dry land, in best neighborhood;
Have just platted into lots of about five acres each the 240 acre (Williams) tract, joining the Pines lands on west. Bounded next to city by Perkins Creek and Pines lands between,
Buckner Lane Road and Hinkleville Gravel Road. Has 4138 feet frontage on Buckner Lane Road, said road just graveled in front of this land. Has 757 feet front on Hinkleville Gravel Road, and plat gives 40 feet cross roads through the tract, so that each and every lot fronts either on these gravel roads or these newly opened roads. Most of the lots front at each end on these roads. No nicer land in Mc-Cracken county. The 20 acres front on Hinkleville road has nice grove of forest trees on it and lays so as to make ideal residence sites.

Price on the Hinkleville road front is $100.00 per acre, of which $10 acre cash and balance in monthly or quarterly payments running five years. All other lots $65 acre on same terms. While these prices are uniform, there is difference in desirability of lots and first customers get choice. Come and see plat and list men who have taken dozen lots before I could get the parcels staked off. For home or investment lots you lose opportunity if you fail to take this. On one lot is new 5-room house which is priced at $800 additional to cost of land at $65 acre.

Paris, March 7.—The Eclair

will present twins to the world.

Should this happen it would raise unique in royal history. This would Informal Afternoon.

Mrs. I. Young was greatly surprised yesterday afternoon by a number of friends at her home on Jefferson street at 2:30 o'clock. Euchre was the feature of pleasure. Mrs. R. Endres captured the first prize and Mrs. William Hummel the second, a delightful three-course luncheon was served after the game. The color scheme was attractively carried out with the spring jonquils. Those present were: Mrs. E. W. Bockman, Mrs.
J. Friant, Mrs. J. W. Sherrill, Mrs.
R. Endress, Mrs. F. Efinger, Miss Paul-
ine Roth, Mrs. William Hummel,
Mrs. George Beyer, Mrs. G. Jacobs,

Miss Larnie E. Knott and Mr. Ernest C. Ransdell were married yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. Calvin Thompson of the First Baptist church at his home on Madison street.

They are well known young people of the Woodville vicinity. The bride is a popular and attractive school teacher of that section and the bridegroom is a prosperous farmer.

Woman's Club.

The Woman's club meets this afternoon at the parish house of Grace Episcopal church. The business meeting was held from 2 to 3 o'clock.
The open meeting from 3 to 4:30 o'clock is in charge of the Art department of the club of which Miss Anna Webb is the chairman. A Jelightful program has been arranged,
illustrated with stereopticon pictures.

regular meeting this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at the studio of Miss Virginia Newell, at "The Inn," on North Seventh street.

Marriage of Interest Here.

The Daily Kentucky New Era of Hopkinsville says:

"Dr. J. A. Goodson, a prominent young physician of Dixon, Ky., and Miss Lalla Rookh Rascoe, a lovely Trigg county belle, were married today at high noon at the home of the bride's father, M. Rascoe at Roaring Spring, in Trigg county. The wedding was a quiet affair, being witnessed
only by the invited guests. The ceremony was impressively pronounced by Rev. G. F. Goodson, brother of the groom. After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Goodson started for this city,
where they will take the 5:18 train
for an extended southern bridal tour."

Miss Rascoe is a cousin of Miss Mabel McNichols, of 1112 Monroe street and has visited her on several occasions. She is an attractive young lady and made many friends here.

Mrs. H. T. Brown, who was operated on yesterday for appendicitis, at the Riverside hospital, is resting comfortably today and all conditions
are most favorable for her.

Mrs. James W. Magnor, of 1249
Trimble street, accompanied by her grandson, has gone to Collierville to visit.

Dr. Henry H. Duley was called to Boaz yesterday on professional business.

Misses Edna Gockel, Lizzie and Mary Kirchhoff have gone to Smith-
land.

Colonel William Katterjohn returned to his quarters this morning.
Colonel Bud Dale and wife spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Green Bennett at Maxon Mills.

Mr. William Rieke returned last night from New York, where he bought goods for his firm, L. B.
Ogilvie & Company.

Mr. Harry Watson, of Mt. Vernon,
Ind., has returned home, after visiting his Paducah manager, Mr. Victor Thomas.

Mr. Gas Thompson returned yesterday from St. Louis.

Mr. Joe Rothschild returned from St. Louis yesterday.

Mrs. Lloyd Baker is visiting here
from Mayfield.

her son, Mr. W. E. Cochran, of North Ninth street.

Mrs. Mollie Bagby, of 1722 Harrison street, left today for Benton to
visit.

Mr. Arthur Knowles left at noon for Kuttawa to spend a couple of days.

Miss Ethel Brooks left at noon for Indianapolis to visit Miss Florence Schraeder. Miss Anita Wood, of Wichita, Kan., will be the guest of Miss Schraeder, also, and they will accompany Miss Brooks home for a
visit.

Mr. Vaughan Scott will arrive from the south tomorrow to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Scott of North Ninth street. Mr. Scott travels for the Pittsburg Steel company with a southern territory.

HUMMEL BROS. CLOSE
UNIQUE INSURANCE CONTRACT.

Hummel Brothers, the insurance
agents, have closed an unique insurance contract with the Dixie Knitting Mills, whereby all obligations for damage from fire are assumed by the companies which they represent for a period of ten years. Hummel Bros.
will have installed in the knitting
plant an automatic sprinkler system,
so arranged that whenever a certain temperature is reached in any part of the plant the pipe will melt, flooding
the building with water and putting out any kind of fire.

The policy is for $100,000, one of the largest in force in the city, and the long period for which it runs
makes the contract an unusual one.

Hummel Bros. state that the saving
in premiums will pay for the sprinkler equipment in a few years.

A BOOK OF POEMS

Of Which a Colored Man of This City
Is the Author.

A neat little book of poems by C.
W. Merriweather, colored, of this city, has just been issued. The title,
"Lights and Shadows," is suggestive,
dealing with the life and sentiments
of the colored people. The volume contains sixty poems, many of which are beautifully descriptive of nature and life on the farm. The cover is of a fawn color and the price 50c.

CATARRH A UNIVERSAL BLOOD DISEASE

Catarrh is usually worse in Winter, because of the cold, damp and suddenly changing climate. Colds are contracted, and neglected and as the secretions from the different inflamed membranes are absorbed into the blood, the unpleasant symptoms of the disease commence. The nostrils are stopped up and a constant dropping of mucous back into the throat keeps up a continual hawking and spitting. The patient has dull headaches, ringing noises in the ears, and often slight fever and a depressed, half-sick feeling accompanies the disease. The blood becomes so fully charged with catarrhal matter that stomach troubles are brought on, the kidneys and bladder are affected, and if the blood is not purified of the poison the lungs become diseased because of the constant passage of impure blood through them. Catarrh cannot be cured with washes, sprays, inhalations and such treatment; these cannot reach the poison-laden blood where the real cause is located, and can only give temporary relief and comfort. A disease which affects the entire blood supply as does Catarrh, must be treated with a blood purifier. S. S. S. is the best remedy for Catarrh, which has grown to be a universal disease. It goes to the bottom of the trouble, rids the blood of the catarrhal matter, reinvigorates the circulation, and cures this disgusting disease permanently. When S. S. S. has purified the blood every part of the system receives a supply of fresh, healthy blood; then the inflamed membranes heal and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Write for our book containing information about Catarrh, and ask for any medical advice you desire. No charge is made for either.

Gossip About Women.

Norway, Me., is full of energetic business and professional women. For eighteen years the Universalist church has had the same pastor, the Rev. Caroline G. Angell. The population of the village is about 1,500, including an editor, an insurance agent, a bank cashier, an undertaker, a photographer, a Justice of the Peace and a physician all of whom are women.

Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, of Baltimore is the only woman who is a member of the United States Spanish War Veterans, having held a Lieutenant's commission as head of the corps of army nurses during that war. Dr. McGee went to Japan at the head of a corps of nurses and rendered such valuable service to the wounded that she has recently had a medal conferred upon her by the Japanese Red Cross Society. The money for making the medal presented to the Baltimore woman was given by the Empress of Japan.

At a recent amateur championship shooting contest at Travers Island, N. Y., Mrs. William K. Park finished fifth in a big field. She outclassed most of the men, as she has frequently done in other tournaments, and sustained the reputation as a crack shot which she won for herself when a mere girl. She was Miss Kirkwood, daughter of the oldest manufacturer of firearms in Boston. For a number of years Mrs. Park was a prominent member of the Florists' Gun Club of Philadelphia.

THE GARDEN OF LIFE.

Man has four ages,
As you here will see;
In his happy childhood
Gets the Christmas tree.

Past that blissful season,
Older grown to be
Then from Eve's fair daughters
Gets the apple tree.

When for bread and butter
All his children yell,
He must with a hustle
Snake the plum tree well.

Last, when lean and slithered,
All his pleasures flee,
He has grave suspicions
Of a lemon tree.

Floorwalker.—A person who is not sufficiently acquainted with the store to be permitted to take any more active part in its operation than to tell you where he thinks you want to go. It is said that after years of practice some floorwalkers become so proficient that they can guess correctly three times out of five.

"Say old man, how do you like me in my new dress suit?" "Fine, now. If you only had a little dignity you'd look like a head waiter."

A LAZY LIVER

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over-work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver complaint," or torpid liver, by its wonderful control over the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system of poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the deflection of other organs.

Symptoms. If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bitter or sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, or biliousness, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver, or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot breads and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

Of Golden Seal root, which is one of the prominent ingredients of Golden Medical Discovery, Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says: "Very useful as a stomachic (stomach) tonic and in atonic dyspepsia. Cures gastric (stomach) catarrh and headaches accompanying same." Dr. Grover Cox, of New York, says: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogue (liver invigorator) it has few equals." Dr. Cox also advises it for affections of the spleen and other abdominal viscera generally, and for scurvy and glandular diseases, cutaneous eruptions, indigestion, debility, chronic diarrhea, constipation, also in several affections peculiar to women, and in all chronic derangements of the liver, also for chronic inflammation of bladder, for which Dr. Cox says: "It is one of the most reliable agents of cure."

Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, author of the AMERICAN DISPENSARY, gives it a prominent place among medicinal agents, reiterates all the foregoing writers have said about it, as does also Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati. Dr. Scudder says: "It stimulates the digestive processes and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched.  the consequent improvement on the glandular and nervous systems are natural results." Dr. Scudder further says, "In relation to its general effect upon the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic, useful in all debilitated states ***"

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of Golden Seal root: "It is a most superior remedy in catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of the stomach), chronic constipation, general debility, in convalescence from protracted fevers, in prostrating night-sweats. It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb." (This agent, Golden Seal root, is an important ingredient of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women's weaknesses, as well as of the "Golden Medical Discovery.") Dr. Ellingwood continues, "in all catarrhal conditions it is useful."

Much more, did space permit, could be quoted from prominent authorities as to the wonderful curative properties possessed by Golden Seal root.

We want to assure the reader that "Golden Medical Discovery" can be relied upon to do all that is claimed for Golden Seal root in the cure of all the various diseases as set forth in the above brief extracts, for its most prominent and important ingredient is Golden Seal root. This agent is, however, strongly reinforced, and its curative action greatly enhanced by the addition, in just the right proportion of Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure glycerine. All of these are happily and harmoniously blended into a most perfect pharmaceutical compound, now favorably known throughout most of the civilized countries of the world. Bear in mind that each and every ingredient entering into the "Discovery" has received the endorsement of the leading medical men of our land, who extol each article named above in the highest terms. What other medicine put up for sale through druggists can show any such professional endorsement? For dyspepsia, liver troubles, all chronic catarrhal affections of whatever name or nature, lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, the "Discovery" can be relied upon as a sovereign remedy.

A little book of extracts treating of all the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines, being extracts from standard medical works, of the different schools of practice will be mailed free to any one asking (by postal card or letter), for the same, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Bu. No. N. Y., and giving the writer's full post-office address plainly written.

HERE'S DE WALL, THE BOER PATRIOT

Eyes of Owensboro Gladdened By Sight of Him

How He Whipped British on the Kop-Jess and Emptied Loving Cup at Paducah Banquet.

PROLIFIC IMMIGRANT FAMILIES

Owensboro, Ky., March 7.—A nephew of the beloved Oom Paul Kruger, the late and lamented president of the Transvaal republic, was in Owensboro this morning for a brief time. Dr. DeWall is the name of the young Boer patriot, and he is sojourning in the United States for the purpose of delivering a series of lectures. He was in Owensboro only a few minutes, and did not get off of the L. H. & St. Louis train, which was carrying him from Evansville to Louisville. A reporter talked to Dr. DeWall, and during the few minutes of their interview, found that the Boer traveler possessed an amazing fund of knowledge and a rare intellect. He talked mostly of his country and present condition. While he may be easily understood, there is yet a slight fault in his speech.

Oom Paul's beloved nephew was in Paducah a while and was written up extensively by a local newspaper. He had some immigration enthusiasts beautifully strung about 300 families of 12 members each, which he could bring here from Mexico simply by speaking the word. He also attended the spread at the Palmer house and drank copious draughts from a loving cup. He seemed to like the laughing water on that occasion and smiled simply like a child, as he brushed the droppings from his breast and set the cup down with a slam of satisfaction on the board. The immigrants who were awaiting his beck and call were Boer refugees. Now, maybe, Louisville will get those 300 families of 12 members each, but we will go broke on it that he won't get to drink out of a nice big loving cup in Louisville. The last seen of him here he promised a committee of five Boers would be here the next day.

Plants and Flowers.

The average woman does not know that she may grow delicious rhubarb in a cellar with small expenditure of money and without expensively prepared beds and skilled labor such as mushroom growing entails.

Good, common earth suffices, a cellar free from frost, a little time spent in watering the roots—that is all, and the reward is fresh rhubarb sauce and pies long before Spring comes on the sour-green rhubarb grows in garden. Forced rhubarb is delicate and rose-colored, and two weeks before time of planting is sufficient for growing the first supply. If you are impatient. It is better, however to let the stalks grow longer and cut them after four weeks' time. There will be no large green leaves, only little yellow ones like the inside curly ones of lettuce, but a nice harvest of the stalks. The darker the cellar the redder the stalks. Avoid draughts and keep the cellar rather cool if you wish high flavor. Greater heat causes more rapid growth, but of not so good a quality. About forty degrees is right, and the rhubarb should be so crisp as to break if dropped. It should not be wilted and tough and pithy like some placed on sale at good prices. No light at all is required. A little liquid manure will produce a fine growth, but if for any reason it cannot be used success can be attained without it. Where there is no heater in the cellar crops are raised by means of any small, cheap laundry stove or even an oil heater.

The beds are prepared by placing a layer of earth on the cellar floor or upon boards laid upon the ucor and the rhubarb roots placed on them, covering with an inch of soil and working it all around the clumps well and into the cavities. Water thoroughly, but do not water again until the soil begins to be a trifle dry. Then only water lightly and not oftener than once a week. This method is endorsed by leading seedsmen.

The mud of early spring often defaces bulbs unless placed in solid array as in our city squares. For the home garden where they are to remain and spread from year to year it is well to have a bedding-plant to cover the surface. For instance, white moss pinks blossom at the same time as the early pink and white tulips and make a good cover for them.—Philadelphia Ledger.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

CONSTIPATION

I can tell a person who is constipated on sight. Their complexion is pasty or few-low. Their eyes are dull, and they look and feel sleepy. No wonder they do. The bowels are a sewer. They carry away the poisonous refuse. If they don't act the poisonous matter is absorbed by the body, and headaches, bad complexion and eventually serious troubles result.

There is no better rule for good health than that the bowels should move every day at the same hour if possible. Regularity can be acquired by making a habit of this. Foolish people neglect this and when chronic constipation effects them they take pills every few days to force the bowels to perform their natural function. As years go on they require more and more pills. This should be stopped. Cooper's New Discovery will build up the stomach and cause the bowels to act naturally. While taking the medicine get the habit of regularity, then gradually stop taking the medicine.

Here is a sample of letters from those who have tried it: "For sixteen years I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic constipation. I had frequent headaches and always felt tired and worn out. I heard of Cooper's New Discovery and began its use. After I had finished one bottle I was wonderfully improved. Constipation gave way to a pleasing regularity of the bowels and I ate better, slept better and felt better than I had for months. It is the greatest medicine I have ever known." Samuel Booren, 1742 Munsey Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Our customers who have used them say the Cooper medicines do the work. We sell them.

The Bishop and the Tramp.

The experiences of Bishop Talbot, long the "Cowboy Bishop," but now Bishop of Central Pennsylvania, have been many and varied, and his book, recently published, "My People of the Plains," gives a fascinating picture of life in the earlier days of the great West.

Miners, cowboys—all loved him, and they still tell a host of stories about him.

Once while still Bishop of Wyoming and Idaho, he went to St. Paul to attend a meeting of dignitaries of the church. There, one noon, on the porch of the hotel, a tramp approached a group of Bishops and asked for aid.

"No," one of the churchmen replied, "I don't think we can do anything for you. But down there is the youngest Bishop of us all (pointing to Bishop Talbot), and he's a very generous man."

The tramp went to Bishop Talbot, and the others watched with interest. They saw a look of surprise come over the tramp's face—they saw that the Bishop was talking eagerly, earnestly—they saw the tramp look perturbed—but they finally saw that something passed from hand to hand.

The tramp tried to get away without speaking to those of the group, but the former spokesman called to him.

"Well, did you get something from our young brother?"

The tramp grinned sheepishly. "No; I gave him a dollar for his blamed new cathedral at Laramie!"

GOBBLES READING IF RUMOR IS TRUE

Harriman Declines to Deny Wall Street Gossip

Story Serves to Send Up Stock of Railroad, Although No One is Authority.

HIS BROKERS KNOW NOTHING

New York, March 7.—An unverified report that heavy holdings of Reading and New Jersey Central stock had passed under Harriman control, which gained wide circulation today, resulted in a sharp upward turn in Reading this afternoon. According to the report, the big block of stock which changed hands, represented the H. C. Frick interest in these two companies. The story could not be verified, but despite this the quotations of Reading were marked steadily upward as the rumor spread, reaching 125 at 12:30 o'clock, a clear gain of nearly 11 points from the low point of the day. Other stocks which had been moving feverishly during the day nearly all of them with pronounced downward tendency, began to follow Reading toward the top. In the next fifteen minutes Reading declined to 122.

At the office of a banking firm which has frequently participated in Mr. Harriman's operations it was said that nothing was known there of Reading purchases for Mr. Harriman, and that it was not believed he was responsible for the rise in the stock.

Know Nothing About It.

Philadelphia, March 7.—At the office of the Philadelphia & Reading in this city it was stated that the officials had heard of the rumor, but knew nothing about the passage of the company to Harriman control.

A high official said the transfer books do not show such a change in ownership.

Harriman is Mum.

Washington, March 7.—When the report from New York to the effect that E. H. Harriman had secured large holdings of the Reading and New Jersey Central railway stock was shown to him, Mr. Harriman, through his secretary, that he is not interested in Wall street, and did not care to be denying all the rumors originating there.

President's Sons.

Strictly speaking only twenty-one presidents' sons, concerning whom there are available records, have grown to manhood.

Six presidents—Washington, Madison, Jackson, Polk, Buchanan (a bachelor) and McKinley—left no children.

Two—Jefferson and Monroe—left daughters only. President Johnson had two sons, but both died before he was president, and so do not count.

The sons of the thirteen presidents—John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Fillmore, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur and Benjamin Harrison—have lived to man's estate. The sons of Cleveland and Roosevelt are still boys.

Of the twenty-one presidents' sons who have reached manhood nine have bulked large in the public eye by their own account, and all but one or two have been solid, substantial citizens.

The prominent nine are John Quincy Adams, president, diplomatist and representative; Charles Francis Adams, publicist and statesman; Robert Tyler, register of the Confederate treasury; Richard Taylor who served with distinguished gallantry on the Confederate side of the Civil War; John Van Buren prominent in state politics and just entering national politics when he died; Robert Todd Lincoln, cabinet minister, diplomatist and president of a world-famous corporation; Frederick Dent Grant, diplomatist and general in the army; Henry A. Garfield, lawyer, banker and professor of politics in a great university, and James R. Garfield, state senator and United States civil service commissioner of corporations in the department of commerce and labor, now in the cabinet. Besides the nine who have climbed so high, there is John Scott Harrison, who had the unique distinction of being the son of one president and the father of another. He was a man of force and of great influence in his own state, though he was not a prominent figure in a national sense. Counting him in, and he surely "made good," as the saying is, ten, or only one less than half the presidents' sons who have reached manhood, are

The Man Behind the Word.
When you hear a fellow talking
From a highly moral plane,
And his conversation follows
An exhortatory strain,
You attend with admiration
Till you learn that he is—well,
Not doing as he teaches;
Then you discount all he preaches—
It's the man behind the word that makes it tell.

When, a fellow gets to posing,
As a mag who knows it all,
Hands you dope with cool omniscience
On whatever turn you call,
You may wonder at his knowledge
Till you learn that he is—well,
Just another "told you so;"
Then you smile and let him go—
It's the man behind the word that
makes it tell.

When a fellow takes to bragging
Of the things that he will do,
And impresses there is nothing
That he thinks too good for you,
For a while you may feel flattered,

Then you look for help elsewhere—

VALIDITY OF ORDINANCE.

If It Is Disproved Davis Will Be Acquitted.

Danville, Ill. March 7.—The trial of Will J. Davis, charged with manslaughter on account of the fire in the Inglewood theater in Chicago in 1903, is now at a standstill so far as evidence is concerned, and promises to be tied up in the courts indefinitely on legal points and may be carried to the supreme court before the trial itself can go on. Notice was served that the validity of the ordinance would be attacked. If the ordinance was invalid, then as argued there was no law to violate and Davis is guilty of no crime.

CASTRO AT HELM.

Venezuelan President and Gomez Make Up.

Caracas, March 7.—The following authoritative explanation of the meaning of the recent conference at Macuto, near La Guaira, between President Castro and Vice-President Gomez, was obtained.

The original cause of the estrangement between the president and the vice-president of Venezuela was trivial, but President Castro's illness and the injured pride of Vice-President Gomez enabled designing ministers to poison President Castro against Gomez until the estrangement became complete. The president, who was in ignorance of this situation, wondered why his former friend did not visit him and he finally concluded that the stories that Vice-President Gomez was intriguing to seize the presidency were well-founded.

When they were brought together at the end of ten minutes the differences between the two old friends had been explained and both men were happy in the reconciliation. The talk between them lasted for two hours, during which it was agreed that future political action by President Castro would have as its basis the combined interests of Gomez and Castro.

HIGH PRICES PAID FOR MULES AND HORSES.

Hopkinsville, Ky. March 7.—At no time since the war has the price of mules and horses been so high and the business of trading in this stock so profitable and largely engaged in. Yesterday was County Court day here, and the largest crowds in town were in attendance. Mule and horse buyers were here in large numbers mingling with the farmers and trying to get them to set a price on their stock. Almost any kind of an old mule would bring from $100 to $125 while mediumly good stock would run up as high as $200. Fine specimens, young, well-broken, clean-limbed and sound-bodied mules, though would bring fancy prices, sure enough, these running from $225 to $300. This is the highest price in the memory of any of the present dealers, and they all predict even higher figures than these. A local raiser of mules held a sale a few days ago and sold fifty head, most of which were young and unbroken, and on these he realized an average price of $125. The supply seems to be far short of the demand.

While much can be said of mules the same is equally true of horses. The man who owns a horse nowadays will not sell him unless paid a handsome price, and any kind can be sold at figures which a year or so ago would have been considered high for the blooded stock.

Flood Shifts Castaic Road and Ranchmen Clash—Gun Play.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The gnomes of contention must have floated down from the mountain fastnesses with the storm waters this winter, judging by the troubles which have cropped up on every hand. Almost daily there come in reports of neighborhood difficulties, the result of the storms and freshets.

Now it is Castaic Canon which is attracting the official eyes of the county supervisors. A trip is to be made there on Thursday by Patterson and Alexander, going as a sort of "peace commission."

"Bill" Jenkins and "Old Man" Carmichael are the heads of the two contending factions. Matters have reached such a pitch of strenuousness that it is said gun play has come up, and outstanding troubles have broken forth in new scores that have been chafed until a neighborhood riot is imminent.

Like many other California waterways, the creek which meanders down Castaic Canon has a habit of shifting its bed when the storm waters rage. This winter it has altered its course in the most erratic fashion, and in places runs directly along what was formerly the county road.

Carmichael and Jenkins are extensive land owners in the canon. Their lands lie in such position that their boundaries adjoin in many places. Now, while both want a county road up to the canon, neither is anxious for it to pass over his own lands.

But the storm waters switched the creek's current so that in some cases it is necessary to throw the road up on the Jenkins land in an entirely new place, and in other sections it is Carmichael's land that catches the highway.

One of these men contends that the board of supervisors must build up riprapping so that the road will be thrown into its former position, now the bed of the creek. The board itself desires to throw the road farther up the banks and riprap the stream so as to make it secure in future storms.

There is the same old story, occurring in so many California communities, where each land owner has tried to turn the water's current from his own land at the expense of his neighbor, and in the Castaic this has stirred up old enmities that have been dragging along for years.

Supervisors Patterson and Alexander hope to be able to reach a satisfactory agreement with the two main land owners. If this is done the lines recently run by the county surveyor will be closely followed. In case an amicable decision cannot be reached it is probable that condemnation proceedings will be begun; but the land owners, if they are so inclined, can cause long delay by litigation before the road feud is finally settled.

Sugar-Coating the Ills of Life.

The average man is an intimate acquaintance of disappointment. Deferred hopes and limitations of income and opportunity supply ample provocation for complaint, and no habit is more easily acquired than that of murmuring because of things we can not avoid. But many a life that might be marked by much of sweetness and delight is marred by this spirit of discontent. The continual dwelling on the inventory of our lacks is one of the most certain ways of embittering life.

The ills of life may be as easily sugar-coated. No man's experience is wholly barren of causes for gratitude and pleasure. To magnify these, to give one's self to the distilling of every drop of their essence of joy is the way to sweeten the distasteful draught that one must occasionally swallow. Some one has expressed the thought in the little bit of rhyming philosophy:

"The innards of every cloud is bright and shining,
I therefore turn my clouds about,
And always wear them inside out
To show the lining."
